BISHOP RAGG VISITS ST. MICHAELS

The Bishop took the occasion of the mid-week wartime intercessions to visit the Parish of St. Michael and All Angels, for the first time since his consecration. He took many from the aisle of the Nave using part of a service endorsed by the Archbishops of Canterbury and York for use in the Church at the time of the Battle of Britain.

Before his address, which he based on the 16th Psalm, he said he felt that his first contact with a Parish since his consecration had been a happy one and was a spiritual and educational one and was so glad that he was able to attend and take this service. He pointed out in his address that the strength of the Jerusalem of Britain during the days of the war lay in their belief in God. This alone sustained them when the skies rained down their bombs. He also spoke of the value of silence in prayer, prayer is an essential for the life of a Christian and silence before God is a great part of this which we in our rushing world have tended to neglect. In closing he said that we must use the gateway of victory as the entrance into a better world and that in that world we must not neglect our efforts but must make God be paramount in our lives.

Following the service the Bishop met the Vestry for a few minutes and discussed future arrangements for services in the Parish necessitated by Mr. Hoad's leaving for Okotoks.

The Parish was given an opportunity of meeting the Bishop and Mrs. Ragg at a very happy and pleasant social hour which was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Patrick.

TALKING OF BIRTHDAYS

This week the Strathmore Standard reaches its Thirty-fifth Milestone.

In November 1909 the Strathmore and Bow Valley Standard made its first bow to the Public. Founded by the late Park Evans, father of the present Publisher of the Gleichen Call, who sold out in about two years time to John MacKenzie, now publishing the Rockyway Express in Scotland, Mr. MacKenzie sold out in 1936 to A. A. Moore, formerly of the Calgary Albertan. We occupy the same stand but the building has been added to since its first year.

Our celebration will be a quiet one. There will be no fanfare of trumpets nor beating of drums to announce to the citizens the event of the Birthday of one more member of the Fourth Estate.

However, we do wish to take this opportunity to express our very genuine appreciation for the financial support and general co-operation we have received, and for the kindly words that come our way.

Yours very truly,
The Strathmore Standard.

Berta Vale — Serviceberry Women's Institute

The regular meeting of the W. I. was held at the home of Mrs. Leonard Hilton on October 28th.

In the absence of Mrs. Morton the meeting was presided over by Mrs. L. Struble. Roll call of Halloween jokes or current events was well responded to.

Each member is requested to purchase a prize for the bingo table, winners having a choice of a prize or War Stamps. Mrs. Tom Taylor and Mrs. L. Hilton kindly offered to make some more tickets for quilt raffie. This quilt will be on display in one of the store windows in Strathmore this week.

This being our last meeting before the bazaar on Nov. 5th, it was mostly taken up with final arrangements. We are hoping for a good turn out and an enjoyable time is assured. The bazaar opens at 8.30 sharp. There will be a home cooking table with Mrs. Warrack and Mrs. Plath in charge, also Bingo and a bean guessing contest with a free dance to follow.

Some of the ladies brought their finished articles for the bazaar and some useful and lovely things were on display.

At the close of the meeting a dainty lunch was served by the hostess.

Next meeting is scheduled for Nov. 11th, at the home of Mrs. Godfrey, but as it is armistice day, the date will probably be changed.

three days still to go, Victory will be theirs and the quota over-subscribed.

The committee had their plans well organized and the canvassers have been very zealous and faithful in their work.

SUCCESS OF CAMPAIGN FOR WESTERN HARVESTERS

Hon. Humphrey Mitchell, Minister of Labor, told the press today that great satisfaction has been expressed with the results obtained through the efforts of National Selective Service, in co-operation with provincial authorities, in providing labour for harvesting operations on the Prairies.

Mr. Mitchell said that about 4,000 farmers from Ontario were transferred to the Prairie Provinces and that "those who participated in this harvest excursion to help their fellow-farmers could be justifiably proud of a job well done."

"I have received letters from Provincial Premiers, Ministers of Agriculture, and other officials complimenting us on the type of man transferred to the Prairies to assist in the harvesting this year," the Minister declared, "and while a great deal of the credit for the success of this program should be given to the provincial and National Selective Service officials who have co-operated in working out the many administrative details involved, the major share of any credit must go to the men themselves who volunteered for this necessary work. Through their whole-hearted participation the possibility of a large portion of the western grain crop being lost by reason of a labour shortage was nullified. The very valuable assistance received from soldiers in all parts of Canada has also been greatly appreciated." Mr. Mitchell said "Soldiers were granted compassionate farm leave by the military authorities and permitted to return home where they knew conditions and were able to render the best service."

Letter From Thor Larsen

The following are excerpts from a letter to friends in Strathmore from Thor Larsen of Nightingale, who is stationed with the R. C. A. F. at the West Coast. He has just returned to camp after six weeks' hardest leave at his home. Thor writes—

Dear Friends;

I sure had a swell trip back on the train. I left Calgary at 11:15 Monday night and got to Vancouver at 10:15 Tuesday night.

Leaving Banff and Lake Louise you can see some magnificent views of the surrounding mountains and the railway follows the Bow River for quite a piece. Castle Mountain is another interesting thing. It is a sheer precipice of over 4,000 feet above the valley floor and is eight miles long. Long ago there was a mining camp at its base and during the last war there was an internment camp there. We stopped at Lake Louise for about ten minutes. The station there is sure a nice place, charming and rustic. The Lake and Chateau cannot be seen from the station. From here we continued on to Field, Emerald Lake and Golden.

From the Great Divide to Field the railway descends a quarter of a mile in fourteen miles. The Great Divide is the highest point on the railway.

From Field the railway follows the Kicking Horse River for a while. We are descending now and Golden is nearly 1,500 feet lower. Golden is a very nice town. Edgewood is the next stop, a place for mountain climbing. Moberry is next, then Beavermouth. Now we follow the Columbia River, which is nearly 1,400 miles long. There are lots of other little places along the way, but they are too numerous to mention.

Before we get to Glacier, which is a very nice place, there is a little climb but from there we go down again. After Glacier we reach Revelstoke, which lies in the Columbia River Valley surrounded by lofty peaks. The park at Revelstoke is 100 miles square. Between Revelstoke and Sicamous is the Monashee mountain system. From Revelstoke it is downhill practically all the way to the Pacific Ocean. Sicamous is a nice place situated on Shuswap Lake. Next stop is Kamloops, and we can see the Tranquil Sanatorium of the B. C. Government not far from there. Eleven miles from Kamloops is a place called Battle Bluff, where the Indians once had a fierce struggle and there is a place which they point out as a reminder of it. The next place is Ashcroft and one of the boys here at camp came from there. The next place, Black Canyon, is where the water of the Thompson River battles around Halpin Turn in

VICTORY LOAN COMMITTEE ENTERTAINS

Saturday evening, October 30th., was a gala occasion for the Members of the Victory Loan Committee, the Victory Loan Salesmen, and their wives.

A Banquet was held in the Victory Loan Headquarters at 7:30 p.m. to which Mayor Mons E. Hansen, and the Town Council members had been invited to attend. Victory Loan Posters and advertising, red, white and blue tapers and the Union Jack lent a patriotic touch to the table, which were arranged in a large "V" for Victory.

Mr. F. D. Knowlton, Unit Organizer and Secretary, was Chairman and Toastmaster for the entertainment which followed. Mrs. C. P. Dahl was pianist for the Community singing. Many of the old songs were enjoyed and a new "Bond Song", sung to the tune of School Days, created much favorable comment.

During the evening it was announced that the Standard Unit had now reached 175% of its quota, and that a new Flag Pole was being erected on the Royal Bank Building, to make room for Standard's Four Victory pennants. This announcement was greeted with an outburst of spontaneous applause.

The speakers of the evening were all in top form, and many witty and appreciative remarks lent a note of gaiety to the occasion. The program was as follows—

O. Canada, Grace, Dinner, Toast to the King.

Mr. J. P. Madsen, Chairman of the Standard Unit, spoke on the success of the campaign.

Mr. J. E. Macadam gave the Toast to the Ladies and Mrs. Walter Hymas responded.

Mayor Mons E. Hansen expressed thanks of the Village and Community of Chancellor, Rosebud and Standard for having completed Unit Objective First in the Province of Alberta.

Community singing was enjoyed. Mr. Walter Hymas, Bond Salesman ship in a humorous vein.

Mrs. J. M. Wheatley proposed a toast to "Our Husbands" to which Mr. C. P. Dahl replied.

Mr. Anthony M. Rasmussen, Vice-Chairman, addressed the gathering on the success attained by those responsible for the Fourth and Fifth Victory Loans of the newly formed Standard Unit.

Mr. Glen C. Phillips told some humorous stories.

Mr. J. M. Wheatley spoke for the Chancellor community in the success of the unit.

Following the program, the guests were entertained by playing Bingo until midnight, when all joined in "Auld Lang Syne."

The guests were— Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Hansen, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Madsen, Mr. Anthony M. Rasmussen, Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Dahl, Mr. and Mrs. A. V. Southall, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Macadam, Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Phillips.

The splendid sum of one hundred and eighty dollars was realized on Friday afternoon when the ladies of the Danish Lutheran Church held their Annual Bazaar and coffee party. The Ladies Aid is to be congratulated on their successful endeavor.

Miss Betty Jo Elias was home for the week-end. She returned to Calgary on Monday to continue with her studies at the St. Mary's School for Girls.

Sister Mary Romaine arrived in the city by plane early last week to be at the side of her mother, Mrs. Romaine Gregory who is seriously ill in the Holy Cross Hospital. Mr. and Mrs. F. Harrington who were here with Mrs. Gregory during the early part of her illness have returned to their home in Seattle.

The U. F. W. A. Dance held in S. & S. Hall on Friday, October 29th., was a decided success. A large crowd came from near and far to dance to the popular strains of Jerry Fuller's Orchestra. It seemed like old times to a lunch served in the hall by the U. F. W. A. Ladies.

Miss Norma Rasmussen returned to Calgary on Sunday evening.

Miss Rose Pedersen, formerly on the staff of the local branch of the Royal Bank was home for a few days holiday last week.

Spooks large and small were flitting about on Halloween Eve. It may have been due to the celebration being held on the 30th. instead of the 31st, that the damage to local property was almost negligible.

Mrs. J. E. Macadam and her daughter were visitors in Calgary on Monday.

What a thrill to see a larger flag pole being erected on the Royal Bank! This was necessitated by the success of the Victory Loan Campaign. When the Fourth Victory Pennant arrived, signifying that Standard Unit had achieved 175% of its quota, there was no more room on the old flag pole, so a new one had to be installed. It's a proud and thrilling sight to see the Victory Flag and four pennants waving gaily in the wind.

The Young People's Society of the Danish Lutheran Church were entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Axel Larsen on Sunday evening, which was a birthday celebration for their son, Mr. Burge Larsen.

Rev. A. Husted Christensen and several members of the Young People's group of the church held at the Danish Conference for Young People in Denmark last week-end.

(By Lettie Ann Hill)

YOUNG LADY RANDOLPH

The life and Times of Jennie Jerome, American Mother of Winston Churchill, by Rene Kraus, Toronto, Longman's Green and Co. $1.50.

Famous sons and their mothers have by nature, a very close affinity and the American girl from Brooklyn who became, by a strange twist of fate, the mother of Winston Churchill, contributed in full measure her dynamic stature to her son. The Anglo-American union of Lord Randolph Churchill, younger son of the House of Marlborough England, and Jennie Jerome, daughter of Leonard Jerome of Madison Avenue, New York, lion vivand and business man, produced Winston Churchill, the man, who more than any other, may bring about a lasting Anglo-American fraternity.

This was no Cinderella match, although there is sufficient of the improbable in it to delight the heart and interest of the most confirmed romanticist. The Jeromes were the American counterpart of the British aristocracy. When the Duke of Marlborough questioned his son's precipitate suit, Randolph had met Jennie three times at Cowes when he proposed and was accepted. Leonard Jerome, affronted withdrew his grudgingly wired consent. Jennie and her family returned to Paris where they had resided for some time and young love had to wait for further family council. Neither parents could know at that time that upon their "yes" or "no" rested the fate of the British Empire. Lord Randolph was a determined young man, however. Eventually he overcame parental scruples. The Duke travelled to Paris and met Jennie and to meet her was to succumb. On April 15, 1847, Randolph and Jennie were married at the British Embassy in Paris.

From then on life for Jennie Jerome now Lady Randolph Churchill, joined the fortunes of the life and times of the great of England, spread beyond to the continent of Europe, intimate with royalty and the greatest political figures of the day. It was a formidable background and one which might have eclipsed a lesser star. Jennie rose with the tide and her beauty and brilliance matched and overreached it. She died too soon to know that her son was to become the bright light in the House of Marlborough since the days of the great Duke himself.

True, Winston, a lonely little boy, immured as was the custom of the time in a Public School, most unsuited for him and most ungenial, showed little promise of his future role. We get a glimpse of the status of the small Winston through his mother's eyes when she had time to pay a flying visit to him. "Lady Randolph made a flying visit to St. James School to bid her boy goodbye. The condition in which she found the child horrified her."

What was Winston's guilt? His masters "only saw a poor pupil at the bottom of the form, yet precociously reading books beyond his years, making little progress at his lessons and none at all at games." Lady Randolph removed her son and no doubt the chief claim of this school is that Winston didn't do well there. The demands on a beautiful woman immersed in her husband's erratic political career, and the social whirl of the Edwardian era at its peak, left only brief interludes of contact with two small sons, Winston and John. But in later years when fortunes were low, Winston's mother fought for his advancement as valiantly as she had done for those of his father.

On January 24th., 1895, Lord Randolph Churchill died and Jennie was left with two sons and an uncertain future. The "Journey into Death" had taken the Randolph Churchills around the world in hope of a delay. The book records that they crossed Canada visited the hospital at Medicine Hat, travelled through a prairie fire to Banff and admired the Rocky Mountains. Their ultimate hope was to see the capital of Burma, the country which Randolph had annexed for the British Empire. He collapsed in Bombay. The "Journey into Death" was almost complete.

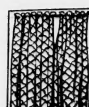

From here on Lady Randolph Churchill's story is that of a mother, a mother who sees her son launched on a political career though she could not live to see the crowning glory of it. The life of this remarkable woman then took a new turning, a renoancement of the past. "It was not difficult to bid farewell to her first life. It had been a rich life, but now it was fully accomplished, and it should not last beyond its time. Her new name would be Mrs. George Cornwallis-West. Exit Lady Randolph."

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"Adam and Fallen Man" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon at all Christian Science Church on Sunday. The Golden Text is Isaiah 2:22. One of the Scriptural citations is "And the serpent said unto the woman, Ye shall not surely die; For God doth know that in the day ye eat thereof, then your eyes shall be opened, and ye shall be as gods, knowing good and evil" (Genesis 3:4-5). One of the correlative passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, is "All human knowledge and material sense must be gained from the five corporeal senses. Is this knowledge safe, when eating its first fruits brought death? In the day that thou eatest thereof thou shalt surely die," was the prediction in the story under consideration" (p. 532).

"SPEED THE VICTORY"

TO bring this war to a victorious end, we must have — and we must maintain — overwhelming superiority in men and equipment. We must continue our war effort on the home front as on the battlefield, with the same purpose and determination which carried us through the anxieties and reverses of the last four years.

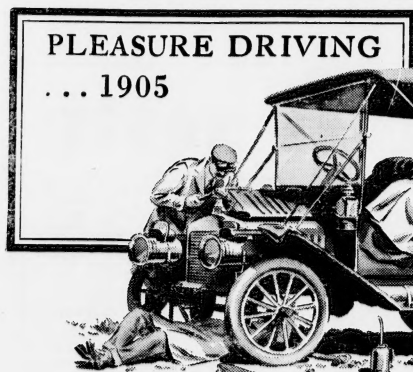

The slogan of Canada's fifth Victory Loan is "Speed the Victory". Each of the four previous Victory Loans has been a great success. The Fifth Victory Loan must be an even greater success, it must be another milestone in our march to Victory.

Post-War Planning—

We all know that post-war matters are becoming a popular subject for public discussion. In carrying out our job on the Fifth Victory Loan, it may be helpful if we bear in mind the connection between Victory Loans and post-war conditions.

To begin with, we know we are developing new skills, new industries, and new knowledge. This means that after the war, we shall be able to produce more peacetime goods than ever before. And we shall recognize that our aim in the post-war years will be to promote a healthy, vigorous prosperity, in which all can find useful work.

Buy a Poppy to Help War Sufferers

When you went motoring in 1905, you carried a full kit of tools. You needed them. No one knew what would go wrong next.

Down through the years manufacturers competed with each other to give you a better car. Each strove to outdo the other to give you a smoother, more powerful engine, stronger brakes, a more luxurious body. And each year you got a better car for your money.

Under our free way of life business competes with business to give you new and better products, more efficient service. This is true of the company that builds your car, of The Royal Bank of Canada, of the little store on the corner.

What is PRIVATE ENTERPRISE? It is the natural desire to make your own way, as far as your ability will take you; an instinct that has brought to this continent the highest standard of life enjoyed by any people on earth. It is the spirit of democracy on the march.

No Rival To The State—

JOSEPH STALIN'S recognition of the Russian Church comes appropriately enough in a year of great Russian victories. Whatever have been the spiritual defects of the Russian branch of the Eastern Church, it has always been an intensely patriotic institution. Founded a thousand years ago it has rarely, like the churches in the West, opposed the State, but has proceeded largely in complete obedience to the central government. Its services give much attention to celebrating national victories, particularly the triumph over Napoleon in 1812.

The past loyalty of the Russian Church, of course, has always been to the Czar, but the mere fact of its renewed recognition shows that Stalin feels he can rely on its equal support of the present Government. Whether recent developments lead to a spiritual revival is a matter that all friends of Russia will eagerly watch.

TO EVERY CANADIAN From Canadian Military Overseas

In Italy Canadian soldiers realize only constantly increasing pressures will bring final enemy collapse. They are not sparing themselves to achieve that end. They urge all Canadians to back this effort by purchasing an extra Victory Bond, during the next three days, to help "Speed the Victory" G. G. SIMONDS

PARTY FOR MR. AND MRS. PHIL ROGERS SILVER WEDDING

The Chancelor Memorial Hall was the scene of a gala occasion on Tuesday evening when a large number of neighbors and friends gathered to help Mr. and Mrs. Phil Rogers celebrate their silver wedding anniversary. The Hall was decorated with red, white and blue streamers, white bells and of course the Union Jack and V for Victory signs on plain white background. The head table was decorated with red and white carnations and a tiered wedding cake in the middle and red, white and blue candles at each side.

Mr. J. M. Whootley as chairman made a few appropriate remarks as to the sterling qualities of Mr and Mrs. Rogers as citizens of this community. They have been here since 1918.

Many friends journeyed from the neighboring towns of Cluny, Shoultice Hussar and Rockyford. Owing to sickness in the family some of Mr. Rogers close relatives were unable to attend.

Those taking part in the program were Mrs. G. Lee of Calgary who rendered four beautiful solos. Mrs. E. Envidson, who is always so willing, sang a beautiful song. Mr. C. P. Lahl brought greetings from Standard and Mr. L. Snyder bringing greetings from Hussar. Mr. W. Treacy spoke of Mr Rogers good work on the school board of the large unit, and Mrs. E. S. Naylor spoke of the neighborliness of Mrs. Rogers. Mr. G. C. Phillips brought greetings from the Chancelor district. Mrs. J. M. Whootley, in a few well-chosen words, presented the couple with a beautiful chest of silverware with the very best wishes of the community, to which both Mr. and Mrs. Rogers responded and also thanked the committee for the wonderful party and everyone enjoyed a dance to the little tap dance. Out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. N. I. Hansen in her usual gay style sang "Keep Right on to the End of the Road" in which the audience sang the chorus. Mr. Sam Laurie accompanied the artists at the piano. Later the tables were cleared out and everyone went home tired, but happy.

ROCKYFORD

— By K. M. G. —

The Rockyford Victory Loan officials report that our district is well over the top, when there is still some time to go. We are all proud of the support given the drive and the faithful work done by the organization, as well as the manner in which they have been met by the subscribers.

A special meeting of the Rockyford United Church Ladies Aid was held Thursday, October 28th., in the church parlors, in the form of a shower in aid of the annual fall bazaar. Many useful and beautiful donations were received and will be sold at the booths at the event on Monday, November 8. The business of the meeting was the last minute arrangements for the dinner for the bazaar. This fall supper is always popular and takes much planning. Mrs. Poole will convene the kitchen and Mrs. Gibson the dining room, with Mrs. Smith presiding at the tea and coffee urns. Mrs. Simon Roppel will preside at the Fancy

Work Booth and Mrs. L. G. Roppel at the Aprons. Bazaar sale to start at 3.30 and the Dinner at 6.00, and a moving picture will be shown after. This will be a very pleasant evening and a full one.

The Rockyford Chapter O. E. S. had the pleasure of an official visit of the Worthy Grand Matron of Grand Chapter, Mrs. G. L. Lonsberry on Wednesday evening, October 27th., and enjoyed a very interesting and instructive meeting. Other members of Grand Chapter present were Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Blair, two of the local town members of Alberta Grand Chapter No. 27, and many other visitors from Strathmore and Hussar and Rosebush. The Rockyford Worthy Matron, Mrs. N. Bragg, presented Mrs. Lonsberry with a hand embroidered pair of pillow covers for which she graciously replied, "A very pleasant trip was spent around the lunch taken with much visiting and many toasts."

Mr. and Mrs. Blair received a message from Lettbridge this last week stating that Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Short (May 1940) have the proud parents of a fine baby girl. Both Mother and baby are doing well.

Mr. and Mrs. Stone and Mrs. Gibson also had news of a new grandson born to Mr. and Mrs. J. Wallis Gibson (Marjorie Stone) at Vancouver on Friday, Oct. 23rd. Mr. J. Wallis Gibson has received his Commission and is now stationed in Toronto.

The Halloween celebration was advertised for Friday instead of the 31st, which fell on Sunday. This was for the benefit of the "Milk for Britain" fund which was to have had this occasion for their drive. A small portion of the youngsters faithfully did their bit for this, but the larger majority followed their usual custom and soaked windows and misplaced all movable articles until the town was rather topsy-turvy the next morning.

A very enjoyable evening was spent at the ball on Wednesday, October 27, when the friends of Mr. and Mrs. Koester gathered for a dance and shower to honor their recent marriage. Many beautiful gifts were received.

FARMERS AND FARM WORKERS

If Your Farm Work has Slackened for the Winter, You Are Needed Elsewhere in Essential Employment

Highly essential work—very important in Canada's war effort and for the welfare of the Nation—is threatened with shortages of workers. One of the few sources of men available for other high priority jobs is those men on the farm who will not be needed at home during the Fall and Winter. Heavy needs must be met in many lines—producing vitally essential forest products; in base metal and coal mining, in food processing, in railway track maintenance. If you live on a farm and are not needed at home during the Fall and Winter, you are urged to answer this national appeal.

Farmers engaged in essential work during the off season will be allowed to return home when needed. Also, those on postponement under Mobilization Regulations will continue on postponement while in approved essential work during the slack season on the farm.

Please answer this vital call NOW.

The October meeting of the Namaka Red Cross was held at the home of Mrs. George McLean on the 28th. The lunch served at Mr. Swenson's sale netted $45.30 to the Red Cross funds. A vote of thanks was passed to Mr. and Mrs. Swenson for the opportunity to serve the lunch, for providing very adequate and comfortable accommodations, donation of the hot dogs and milk, also a very kind concern for our comfort and convenience.

Arrangements were made for the Chicken Supper and bazaar to be held at Namaka Hall on November 24th. Next meeting to be held December 2 at the home of Mrs. Moss in Namaka. The hostess served a much enjoyed lunch of delicious sandwiches and coffee.

"No," said the boy, "but you didn't bring her up from a pup."

FORMER HANNA BOY WRITES FROM KISKA

Jack Bloom, with the Joint Canadian American forces on Kiska, in a letter to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Bloom, 513 First Avenue, gives an intimate picture of the soldier's life in the Aleutians. Jack writes—

Yep! We can finally tell you what you already know—we're on Kiska.

Our mail should be in soon although some of the boys are still receiving mail from the last boat. We all expect it anyway.

Tonight I had a bath! In our travels we've managed to scrounge a small tub just perfect for that purpose—the other tents have borrowed it too.

We've got our tent built quite luxuriously now and have only seven in it. We've got the beds, or cots rather along the sides of the tent giving us more room in the centre to move about. We've raised the stove onto a sand box and put a skylight in. Oh, yes, the most important thing we've added is the door with frame et al—really a warmth retainer.

I couldn't tell you before, but when you mentioned that we should have lots of wood to burn, it really struck a funny note. There isn't a single tree on the island. All the wood we are using is salvaged from Jap houses, dugouts, gun emplacements, etc. It's valuable here, only the scraps being burned. Some of us carried it and dragged it for miles. The boys go to no end to improve their living conditions and some even have wooden floors. Ours is dirt, but we've got a sand floor or layer. It's got some volcanic ash in it too, I think.

The island isn't very big, being only about four miles across, but it's plenty rough. The hills are rolling, high and plentiful. They're covered with tundra (mostly in the valleys) which is a thick growth of grass and moss and usually muddy underneath. It makes walking tiresome, especially in a wind. Our landing from the barge was o.k. and went off fairly smooth. After securing cover off the beach we discarded our lifebelts and set off for the first days objective, with no opposition. It was then that it first came to me that there may not be any Nips on the island, although I couldn't immediately believe it. It wasn't very feasible. That night on guard it wasn't very easy to convince myself either and I took no chances as did every other man on guard I'll wager.

About 3:30 the first day word came in of a captured enemy machine-gun and I was sent over with a sergeant and two Americans to get it. It was too big to carry but boy, what a walk we had. On top of that I had a close shave without knowing it at the time.

I myself was on the lookout for land mines, more so than others, and it's plain irony (I call it) that I should practically sit on one. Wasn't there long though! They touched it off a few days later and that's when I found out it really was a mine. No one was sure at the time I sat on it.

Fox-holes were our beds for a week or so and they can be comfortable except when it rains.

We found hundreds of dug-outs and gun emplacements, and hundreds of feet of tunnels in the bigger positions, though I never crawled through any. No use sticking your neck out. The emplacements were very roughly made considering the time they had and the dugouts for living near outposts were inelaborate—I'd hate to live in them.

Maybe this all comes under the heading "camouflage" but lots of the positions had been strafed and bombed from the air. To my eyes the defenses were weak, much weaker than I had expected. The conditions would have made it a battle though.

After four years of war the Germans still occupy all the countries they have invaded. The Japs still hold most of the territory they took. The Russians are fighting to regain their own country. The Chinese are fighting to regain China. On the battle front we're just getting going. On the home front we must keep on going. We must buy more Victory Bonds.

We were both disappointed and relieved at no opposition. I myself was disappointed for I felt sure we'd finish the job in record time with a minimum of casualties. The conclusion drawn now though, is that it was a lucky break and we were indeed lucky to get it. I'm not sorry now.

I have more to tell but will save it for another letter. My candle's nearly got it's miles in. —Hanna Herald.
